Directions

1. Take note of the patterns on both sides of the $12 \times 12$ piece of paper and determine if any of the patterns have a definite direction that you will have to orient as you cut. All of the card front layouts can be used horizontally or vertically so it is up to you which way the patterns to go.
2. Cut $2^{\prime \prime}$ off the bottom of the $12 \times 12$ piece first and set this 2 " $\times 12$ " strip aside to finish cutting later.
3. Next, along the $12^{\prime \prime}$ edge of the now $10^{\prime \prime} \times 12^{\prime \prime}$ piece, cut strips at 1 ", $1-1 / 2^{\prime \prime}, 2-1 / 2^{\prime \prime}$, and 3 " creating 5 strips altogether each 10 " long.
4. Use the cutting dimensions for each of the strips including the first 2 " $\times 12$ " strip you cut off as shown in the diagram. This will create 10 different card front layouts. As you cut you will sort the pieces into piles according to the number of card they belong to. When you begin to assemble the card fronts you will flip one or more of the pieces created to the opposite pattern.
5. Attach the pieces and the coordinating cardstock to the card fronts. Add a punched or die cut focal point with sentiment. Embellish as desired.
